I have a second grader in RCCS. He loves the school. This is his 3rd year at RCCS, transferred from La Vorna Elementary, when he did not pass the intro exam to RCCS we had to put him back in Kindergarden. He did not struggle in Public school, but would have struggle there. At first I was insulted that my son would have to do Kindergarden all over again, but now I'm happy because he's ahead of the game. I'm still friends with some of the mom's. And their child are in third grade doing the same work as my 2nd grader. Private school is about a year ahead, if you can afford it, do it!!! Don't let some jealous person talk you out of it. No school is perfect I've had a few issue, but education wise it's one of the best.

I am a former private school teacher who is now a stay at home mom. We send our son to RCC and we are very happy with his education and with the teachers. Having worked in several private schools where there is no library, lunch program, music program or computer lab we feel so blessed to have these 'luxuries' on top of the GREAT Abeka program! FANTASTIC phonics! Yes, you can always pick out the few teachers you don't agree with or like- but this is a solid school- NOT the mall where you always get what YOU want. This is LIFE and running into people you might not have lunch with is normal- doesn't mean you or your children cannot learn from them! What a gift to be able to attend a Christ centered school!

I currently have three children at RCCS. Each of them went to preschool at Sonshine Preschool and then started at RCCS in kindergarten. Overall, we have been very pleased with their educations. The school is accredited by ACSI and the curriculum has been improved over the years. A Christian worldview and outlook infuses all activities, and we have generally had excellent, caring, attentive teachers. Our children have been involved in many activities, including an excellent band program. Every school has room for improvement, but we've been very happy and intend to send our children there all the way through high school.

We are proud and blessed to be able to send our child to RCCS. We couldnt be happier with the Christian education, the curriculum and the staff. The admissions department was informative and efficient as well as kind and welcoming. The teachers are well educated, loving, and caring individuals who God put in our path to help raise our children up in the Lord. We encourage anyone with any age child to visit our schools. We intend to continue education here through high school and beyond.

the worst school, we had been there over four years and it just kept getting worse. My child failed the entrance exam at another school when we went to move, my child had all A's at Rancho. The education is bad and the discipline is worse. Admistration is to blame for all of it. Dont send your kid here, you can make up for one bad year in school not two or three Terrible! If you care about your childs education dont send them here. The school has been all down hill for the past four years. Don't be fooled by the private lable, you would get a better education letting your child read the newpapper 20 minutes a day. Very dissappointing.

I agree, bad. Supperintendent is bad as well. I blame administration for all the issues. You think the school will be ok when your child is 4 in pre-school, big changes happen after that. Waste of money and time you can never make up. I feel so guilty for having sent my child there for sooo many years. She will never get that education back. Oh, my child failed an entrance exam for another school as well, A student at the time at Rancho. Wow that says it all

We attended Rancho for 4 years and saw a steady decline in everything except for the tuition. Outrages for the quality of education. As long as you have a degree in anything, you are qualified to teach any subject whether you are familiar with it. Some teacher are really nice and caring, others are rude and incompetent. It's what expected from very low paying teachers. The superintendent cares nothing for students or staff, just numbers. Being careful for your student becoming attach to another student as he may not be there next year. Big student turnover. Save your thousands and heartache and send your child to a good public school. Oh yea, the athletics departments lack skills coaches and athlectic director.

We went to Rancho Community Christian School for four year before moving out of the area. We are at a new Christian school with the same tuition and uniform requirements. Rancho has much more to offer for music, computers, science and a library (and a hot lunch program). They are also blessed to have parents who are involved and giving of their time. This doesn't happen everywhere! Be thankful for what you have at Rancho it's not the standard out there.

My children attended public school in Temecula for 4 years. Our children have attended RCCS for 5 years and we feel truly blessed. This school has been able to handle the moderate special needs much better than I found in the public school. They just need to keep tuition and additional costs affordable to be able to reach more families for Christ.

An excellent private school where tuition is still affordable. This is my children's second year at RCCS, and are in Kinder and First. The Abeka Curriculum is superb! The principal is awesome and teachers are all very, very qualified with much talents, creativities, and most of all spiritual. I don't think one could find a school with the level of parents involvement like RCCS; and parents are very much 'down to earth!' I've sent my children to a different private school here in Temecula, but could not be happier than the decisions I've made to enroll them at RCCS.

Expensive uniforms are mandatory. Pants and shorts are very costly.

The grade school program is very good. It is strong in academics and includes music once a week and PE several times a week down to the 1st Grade level. An extracurricular band program is available for 3rd-5th Grade. The grade school principle is very good and accessible to the parents. The principal leadership rating would be a 5 if I was just rating the grade school alone. There are some academic and non-academic problems resulting from quick growth in the past few years in the middle school. Hopefully, the discipline and leadership of the middle school administrator will improve enough to handle these problems.
